LENOX AND NEWPORT GREETING MANY AUTUMN SOJOURNERS

Dinners, Lunches, Bridge and Dancing Continue to Attract Colonists in the Berkshires

LENOX, Mass., Sept. 13. SHOWERS of invitations for dinners and luncheons, for bridge and dancing have been distributed through every mail this week. It is a season of small affairs, little companies meeting to dance and dinner parties rarely numbering more than a dozen guests.

Princess Andrea Boncompagni, who was Miss Margaret Preston Draper of Boston before her marriage, arrived at the Hotel Aspinwall this week. The Princess was greeted effusively by the cottagers.

Miss Allison T. L. Haughton of Boston filled the part of Columbia at a pageant arranged by the cottagers and given by the boys of the Berkshire Industrial Farm at Canaan, N. Y., on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Francis C. Barlow, Miss Olivia E. P. Stokes, Miss Gertrude Parsons and Mrs. W. E. S. Griswold are among the directors of the school.

A bazaar for the benefit of the House of Mercy Hospital in Pittsfield opened on Thursday. Thomas Shields Clarke painted the posters and his son, Charles John Clarke, the scenery. Many cottagers took part in the sales. A long list of well known persons have arrived at the Hotel Aspinwall for the late season.

Mr. and Mrs. George Elkins of Elkins Park, Pa., came up for a few days, returning this week. Mr. and Mrs. E. Le Grand Beers motored over from Broad Albion, N. Y., to visit Mrs. Edwin Beers.

Others who reached here included Mrs. John L. Comstock, Miss Helen A. McKee, Miss E. A. Gilbert, Mrs. William Strauss, John Hubbard, T. W. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Kobbe, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Towne, Edward B. Towne of Manhattan, Mrs. H. P. Talcott of New Rochelle, and Edward Griswold of Islip, L. I. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Russell of Middletown, Conn.; Mrs. Anton Wilson of Jersey City, N. J.; Mrs. C. M. Bellows of Brooklyn; Mrs. Henry L. Redfield of Hartford, Conn.; Mrs. H. C. Hazen, Mr. and Mrs. E. Nichols, Mrs. J. L. Hall of Brooklyn and Mrs. E. C. Hopkins of Manhattan.

Mr. and Mrs. W. de N. Perine of Glen Cove were at the hotel for a few days, as were Mr. and Mrs. Stewart C. Schenck of Rye, N. Y., with their guest, Mrs. M. Borden May of New York.

Throngs Continue at Resort.

Dan R. Hanna has entered his team of each horse at the Eastern States Fair to be held in Springfield, Mass.

Miss Adele Kneeland opened her cottage on Monday afternoon for an illustrated lecture by the Right Rev. Alfred Harding, D. D., Bishop of Washington. The Bishop, who was a guest of the Rev. Latta Griswold, spoke on the new National Episcopal Cathedral at Washington. Miss Kneeland gave a tea at the close of the lecture and was assisted by Miss Marian Davies.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Ludlow, who closed their cottage this week and went to Ludlow, N. Y., were the first of the Lenox cottagers to close a country place this season.

Mrs. Raymond T. Baker has invited a dozen friends to go to her lodge at Raquette Lake in the Adirondacks next Thursday for ten days. Mrs. Baker will also take her sons, Alfred and George W. Vanderbilt.

Capt. and Mrs. William B. Woodford have sent letters telling of their success fishing and hunting in Quebec. They will return to Highland House next week. Miss Mary Pearsall Field is staying at Highland House during the absence of Capt. and Mrs. Field. A group of regular fall guests at the Curtis Hotel include Mrs. J. Kearney Warren, Miss Frances Ogden, Mr. and Mrs. Henry O. Tallmadge and Mrs. Henry E. Howland.

Mrs. William Apper of New York is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Duncombe at Aspinwall Villa. A cable message from Mrs. Ambrose C. Kingsland explained that Mrs. Kingsland's presence in England is due to her not being able to obtain a sailing for New York until later in the month. She expects to arrive at the Lenox cottage about October 5.

Mrs. Pembroke Jones will be a fall cottager. This week she leased the Root cottage for six weeks and will arrive here on September 15.

Mrs. Charles McDougal of Auburn, N. Y., who had been in Quebec, arrived here on Wednesday to visit her sister, Mrs. Carlos M. de Heredia.
